

THE PRESIDENT: The time having expired, the question arises — Delegate Borom, for what purpose do you rise?

DELEGATE BOROM: May I address an inquiry to you?

THE PRESIDENT: State the inquiry.

DELEGATE BOROM: Delegate Gilchrist did quote from the Sun Paper a while ago and I think it is really out of context.

I would like the privilege from the chair to complete one paragraph. I will not be speaking extemporaneously.

THE PRESIDENT: Very well.

DELEGATE BOROM: This is quoting Bradford Jacobs in The Sun.

"There is one distinct undisputed blessing. Labor, which got what it wants, seems certain to support the new constitution when it is tested at the polls next spring. Management, which got other things, cannot gracefully work against it, neither may like the company, but both will be pushing there standing side by side."

THE PRESIDENT: The question arises on the vote to reconsider. A vote Aye is a vote in favor of reconsideration. A vote No is a vote against. This is not a vote on the amendment. If the motion to reconsider carries, the Chair will then submit to you for adoption or rejection Amendment No. 5 without further debate. The vote now is on the motion to reconsider. A vote Aye in favor of reconsideration; a vote No against. Cast your votes.

Has every delegate voted? Delegate James Clark?

DELEGATE J. CLARK: I vote no.

THE PRESIDENT: Delegate James Clark votes no.

Does any delegate desire to change his vote? The Clerk will record the vote.

There being 64 votes in the affirmative and 58 in the negative, the motion to reconsider is passed.

The question now arises on Amendment No. 5. A vote Aye is a vote in favor of Amendment No. 5, which would delete section 1.17; a vote No is a vote against Amendment No. 5, which would leave section 1.17 in the draft subject to further consideration and amendment.

The question now arises on Amendment No. 5. A vote Aye is a vote in favor of the amendment; a vote No a vote against. Cast your vote.

Has every delegate voted? Delegate James Clark.

DELEGATE J. CLARK: I vote Aye.

THE PRESIDENT: Delegate James Clark votes Aye.

Does any delegate desire to change his vote? Delegate Carson.

DELEGATE CARSON: I am confused, myself. Will you explain again what a vote yes is?

THE PRESIDENT: Yes, I will, particularly because I switched the lever the wrong way myself.

So that there will be no misunderstanding about it, let me remind you that when we had Amendment No. 5 before us before there were three other amendments which would have amended section 1.17 in the draft. They were withdrawn when Amendment No. 5 was adopted. Amendment No. 5 deleted the entire section.

I would assume that if Amendment No. 5 is adopted again, these other amendments would not be offered. I would assume that if Amendment No. 5 is not adopted, is rejected, that section 1.17, being then before you and open to further amendment, we would consider the other amendments. Inasmuch as the time at which we must adjourn is here, it could not be done until after the dinner hour, but it would be the purpose of the Chair to put the amendments to you immediately thereafter.

The vote now is on Amendment No. 5 to Committee Recommendations R&P-1 and R&P-2 as amended by S&D-9. Amendment No. 5 deletes all of section 1.17. A vote Aye, therefore, is a vote in favor of the amendment to delete the entire section; a vote No is a vote against the amendment, leaves the section as it is on page 4 of your draft: a vote Aye is in favor of deletion, a vote No, a vote against.

Is there any further question? Has every delegate voted? Delegate Boyce.

DELEGATE BOYCE: This is the first time we have had a vote on the board where there has been a ten-minute explanation before it was tallied. Could we tally it, please, sir?

THE PRESIDENT: I have always responded to any request to explain the matter before the Committee for vote. This is no departure from that rule.
